

PC MANIACS

PC Maniacs are DRIVEN BY PASSION

It is this passion that enables us to provide high-level service delivery to our clients

HISTORY AND CURRENT STATUS

Operating since 2007 the company is located in Midrand – Gauteng's up and coming silicone valley. We are a technology solutions provider offering expertise and support to small medium and enterprise business.

Our scope encompasses the broad information technology spectrum. From hardware and software, to auditing, installations and migrations.

Being a client focused organisation we have identified and addressed one of the biggest complaints for South African businesses – the lack of accountability and ownership in IT and telecommunications infrastructure.

As we manage all user services under one roof, we effectively bridge the gap and converge technologies by combining information technology and telecommunication components, to maximize business processes, therefore providing our clients with an end-to-end solution that minimizes the time they spend on telecommunications infrastructure, and management.
